That's how much LESS Haringey schools will receive compared to Camden and Islington, with 27 headteachers warning that they face the grim prospect of going into the RED by the end of this academic year...

By Lucy Purdy

A THIRD of all schools in Haringey face plunging into the red by the end of the year.

The borough has the second-highest proportion of schools with financial problems in the country, according to figures obtained by the Liberal Democrats under the Freedom of Information Act.

The shock revelation has prompted fears of rampant cost-cutting in the form of redundancies and rising class sizes which may lead to declining standards.

Councillor Gail Engert, Lib Dem children, schools and families spokeswoman, said the situation was "worrying".

She added: "We're already experiencing a squeeze on money from central government and this can only get worse. What's unclear is whether the high number of schools experiencing budget problems will have an effect on teacher numbers, class sizes and resources."

The figures stem from a history of underinvestment in Haringey, according to the borough's largest teaching union, the National Union of Teachers. The branch last year launched a campaign to change the funding formula and secure more money for the borough's schools. NUT branch secretary Tony Brockman said: "It's hardly surprising that our schools have some of the lowest cash reserves in the country.

"They result from years of systematic government underfunding.

"Haringey receives about £1,000 less per pupil each year than Camden, Islington and Hackney and would need an extra £35million each year to bring it up to the same level as its neighbours.

"Our Fair Deal For Funding campaign restarts this term with strong support from headteachers and school governors who've signed up.

"We've only two terms left to win this battle before the government decides on a new funding formula. But with cross-party support, and the whole school community in support, we can win this."

Because Haringey is classed as "outer-London", it receives a government spend of just £4,987 per pupil per year – even before the widely anticipated cuts in public spending, our schools are already facing financial difficulties.

Joan McVittie, headteacher at Woodside High School in Wood Green, said she would struggle to balance the books in the academic year. She has already chosen not to replace four teachers who left this year to stave off a deficit. She said: "Though it hasn't compromised our curriculum, we've had to make changes and I'd say there is considerable pressure on many schools in the borough. Both political parties have indicated cuts of around ten per cent are on the horizon.

"The sooner schools start to recognise that, the more likely we are to weather the storm."

Only North Tyneside has a higher proportion of schools in financial trouble. Nationally, some of the poorest areas in England are among those topping the list for budget deficits.

Support to give kids fairer funding swells to 1,000

By Lucy Purdy

THE campaign for fairer funding for Haringey schoolchildren now has nearly 1,000 signatures on its petition.

In an unprecedented alliance of Haringey's political parties, trade unions and other groups, all bodies interested in education in the borough have joined forces in the Fair Deal For Haringey Children campaign. Their aim is to improve funding for the borough's schools after it emerged pupils in Haringey are being shortchanged by an unfair system of funds allocation by the government.

While Hackney gets £6,170 per pupil per year, Camden £6,161 and Islington £5,812, schools in Haringey receive just £4,987 per child.

Research carried out earlier this year by Haringey Schools' Forum, which represents headteachers and school governing bodies in the borough, showed even some "outer" London boroughs, including Barnet, Brent and Harrow, receive seven per cent more school funding than Haringey under the Area Cost Adjustment. Though Haringey is fourth on the list of the most deprived London boroughs, it is funded as if it were much more affluent.

The campaign already has support from nine trade unions including the NUT, Unison and Unite, Haringey Council, both Haringey MPs and all four prospective parliamentary candidates for Tottenham and Hornsey and Wood Green.

Parent groups, school governing bodies, community groups and anyone else willing to add support should visit www.fairdealforharingeychildren.org

Burglaries take toll in classrooms

THIEVES have looted more than £32,000 of computers and other equipment from schools during the past four years.

There were 27 break-ins at primaries and secondaries were targeted 18 times since 2006, according to figures obtained from Haringey Council.

In 2006 alone, insurance payments totalling £15,252 were claimed after thieves smashed their way into schools 14 times.

Many have resorted to installing sophisticated alarm systems, entry phones, locks on internal doors and secure perimeter fencing as well as employing security managers to live on-site. But the cost to schools in stolen equipment has steadily decreased over the past three years.

Tony Brockman, secretary of Haringey's National Union of Teachers, said: "There's nothing more soul destroying for children and teachers than when they find their classroom has been ransacked."

"Fortunately the statistics show that Haringey school security has improved immensely and these burglaries are becoming less and less frequent."

Scaling the dizzy heights of generosity

Spurs fans trek Inca Trail to help hospice

A PAIR of die-hard Spurs fans have raised more than £8,000 for a cancer charity by trekking across some of Peru's most challenging terrain.

Phil Fish, 56, and Gary Thompson, 58, who have been familiar faces in the terraces at White Hart Lane since they were youngsters, hatched their plan to conquer the lost city of Machu Picchu in the pub after visiting a friend at the North London Hospice.

The plan quickly gathered pace, with Phil and Gary writing to Premiership football clubs across the country to ask fans and club bosses to dig deep and donate cash and memorabilia to be auctioned off.

They funded the seven-day trek, which saw them tackling altitude sickness to take in breathtaking views of the trail and all proceeds will go to the hospice, which looks after terminally ill cancer patients across north London.

Phil told the Advertiser: "It was absolutely fantastic. The Peruvian people had nothing and yet they were absolutely lovely – it was humbling. Spurs gave us signed T shirts to wear on the trek and I ended up giving mine to our guide. He was over the moon even though he is a Manchester United fan!"

The pair not only had to contend with the arduous hike to reach the 700-year-old uninhabited city, which was enough to put two younger travellers in their party in hospital, but at night they slept under canvas in thermal clothing as temperatures plummeted to -40°C.

"It was really cold some nights," Phil said. "Gary suffered but I was lucky and we made it to the city for the sunrise."

"Then right near the top you go over Dead Woman's Pass, which is about 4,200m above sea level, but when you get there it is absolutely beyond belief."

So far the pair have received just over £8,000 for the hospice and have lots of merchandise, including a signed Alan Sugar photograph which are set to go up for auction on eBay shortly.

Knife attack on takeaway delivery man

A PIZZA delivery man was stabbed in the heart by thugs in Tottenham who demanded the keys to his work moped.

The man, aged in his twenties, stopped in Jarrow Road on September 12, when four men took the pizza and told him to hand over the keys before stabbing him in the chest and running off.

The man is then thought to have ridden his moped back to the shop in Park Lane where he collapsed unconscious. He is now in a stable condition in hospital.

Anyone with information should contact Detective Constable Suzie Chantry of Haringey Robbery Squad on 020 8345 0871.

Five-time rapist jailed for 14 years

A MAN has been jailed for 14 years for raping an 11-year-old girl.

Unemployed Colin Miller (pictured), 29, of no fixed address, was found guilty on July 31 of five counts of rape between March and September 2005. He was arrested following a national appeal on the BBC's Crimewatch in July 2008.

During his trial it emerged that he had been jailed in 1997 for five years for his part in a gang rape in Wood Green.

His victim, who cannot be named for legal reasons, said: "I want to thank everyone for trying so hard to capture Colin Miller. As the months passed by, I feared he might never be caught. Now I know he cannot hurt anyone else."

A SKILLS STEPPING STONE BACK INTO WORK

Jill Lowery, Learning and Skills Council, London

Real Help Now for Londoners made redundant or facing redundancy to retrain and get back into work. Call 08000 641 481 to find out how the service can help

Finding out that you are being made redundant can feel overwhelming. In the current tough jobs market, the Learning and Skills Council is working with the European Social Fund (ESF) to make short training courses available that can help people get back to work quickly.

Eight colleges and training providers across London are providing training to help people who have been made redundant in the last six months or who are under threat of redundancy to update their existing skills or start to retrain in new occupational areas.

Although the market is difficult, there are still businesses looking for the right people so one of the best ways of making the transition into another job is through training. More competition means that it's even more important to have the right skills than it might have been 12 months ago.

There are still opportunities for the right people, because the right skills are still the number one priority for employers. Everyone has different needs, which is why the Learning and Skills Council, Jobcentre Plus and training providers are working together, to make sure that those who qualify for this programme will get a personalised package including careers advice, help with finding the right job and guidance on CV writing and job applications.

The new fund is about providing real help now. So if you have been given notice of redundancy or have been made redundant in the last six months, then call 08000 641 481.

After five years of waiting, the club's stars welcome

'It has not thanks to many, we

TOTTENHAM Hotspur's manager and team captain were given their first glimpse of the club's new training ground in Enfield last week. Dignitaries and members of the Spurs Academy joined Harry Redknapp and Ledley King to view the 27-hectare construction site last Wednesday.

After months of preparing the land and checking for any significant archaeological finds, the diggers have moved in and started levelling the ground and marking the foundations for the state-of-the-art football training building.

Club chairman Daniel Levy said he hopes the training site will be the best in Europe. He added: "It has not been an easy project but, with the co-operation of many people, we are now well on our way. Thanks go to everyone over the past five years who helped make it happen."

Mr Redknapp said he was looking forward to training the first team at the new site. He said: "The pitches will be fantastic quality, it will be a great environment to work in."

The first-team building will include a dedicated tactics room, a medical suite, a fitness and rehabilitation gym as well as pool and a hydrotherapy suite for players.

David Keirle, chairman of KSS Architects which has designed the site, said input from community groups had made the plans better. He added: "We're hoping to start the building next year. It will be a low-lying building to make sure you can't see it from surrounding roads, made up of two wings surrounding a covered pitch."

Planning permission for the site was granted in November 2007, but a wrangling over a public right of way delayed building work until this summer.

WHAT'S THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN SPECSAVERS' HEARING AIDS AND OUR MAIN COMPETITORS'?

ACCORDING TO RESEARCH ANYTHING UP TO £2,600

At Specsavers, we know that most people who suffer from hearing loss do so in both ears. We also know that wearing one hearing aid when two are required could still leave you with problems, but some companies charge so much that buying two is prohibitively expensive.

We've changed all that, with two hearing aids for the price of one.

That means we offer outstanding value for money. Independent research shows that Hidden Hearing charges on average £3,869 and Amplifon on average £2,528 for two hearing aids, which would cost just £1,195 for comparable products at Specsavers.

You'll also benefit from professional advice from a Hearing Aid Audiologist, the latest digital technology, free fitting and aftercare, and 2 years' warranty.

ANNE-MARIE SANDERSON

Finally... a new flat

Advertiser helps fire-stricken resident move

A WOMAN who endured four months in a reeking, burnt-out council flat in Tottenham was finally given alternative housing on the day we highlighted her plight in The Advertiser.

A fire ripped through the flat of Yvonne Douglas, 48, in Blaydon Close in May. She was forced to sleep on a camp bed on plastic crates, surrounded by her stinking belongings.

Despite repeatedly contacting Haringey Council with the help of her lawyer, doctor and MP David Lammy, she was finally told she could move on September 9, receiving the call hours after the article was published.

"If this hadn't gone in the paper, I'd still be in that horrible place," said Miss Douglas from the new flat in Lordship Lane.

"I feel better now I've moved but I can't believe it came to this. "Nobody would listen to me. They contacted me on the Wednesday and wanted me to move straight away, without giving me time to sort out my gas or electric. Eventually I came here on Friday."

Now living in emergency temporary accommodation, Miss Douglas has yet to find out how long she will stay but is adamant she does not want to return to her former flat.

She suffers from depression and sciatica, but despite her difficulties was trying to improve her situation, working toward several qualifications including an NVQ in cookery.

She described her anger and frustration that nothing had been done sooner, saying she had "almost given up" before she contacted the Advertiser.

Damage: Firemen attend the scene of the wrecked buses

Six hospitalised after two buses crash in High Road

SIX people were taken to hospital and rush-hour traffic brought to a standstill for hours as two buses crashed in Tottenham High Road last Tuesday morning.

The double-decker number 243 bus and a number 149 bendy bus hit each other at just after 7am, with the bendy bus then careering into a nearby block of flats. The double-decker did not have any passengers on board.

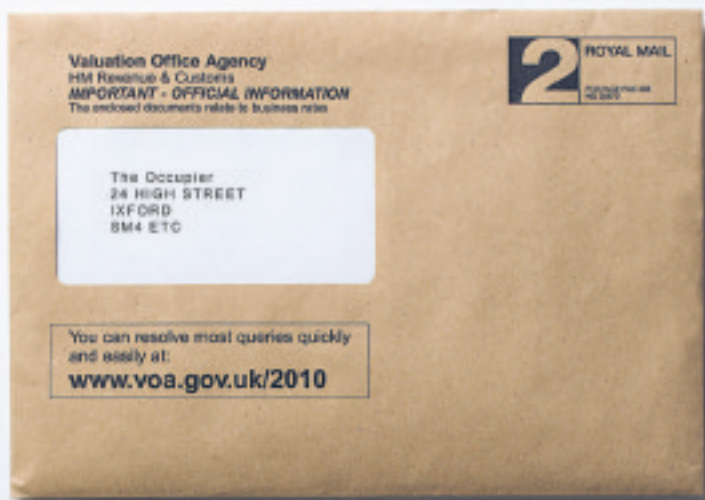

Six people were taken to hospital suffering minor injuries and have since been released after treatment.

Paradise Park is sheer heaven for wildlife... and for families as well!

IT WAS slap bang in the middle of the school term and the kids needed a day out. Or rather, their mum needed to get the kids out of the house before she went loopy.

Going through the list of big days out – Chessington, Thorpe Park et al – didn't strike us grown-ups as much to look forward to, what with their huge crowds, expensive tickets, driving half the day to get there, the huge crowds, over-priced food, massive queues for everything and, of course, those huge crowds.

That was when the idea of a return trip to Paradise Wildlife Park came to mind.

It has been a good few years since I had spent a day at the zoo in Broxbourne, and much has changed in both our worlds.

While I now had my own family to take along, the zoo has developed and grown into something incredibly impressive.

Whereas my visit of many years ago had been enjoyable, apart from a snake doing a number two down my arm, the site had been a somewhat bleak and forlorn place. The transformation is jaw-dropping.

Enclosures for the bigger animals are now very large and full of lush vegetation and toys. There are also aerial viewing platforms to give you safe but unobstructed views of inhabitants which would happily kill and eat you.

From feeding the goats in the farm area, stroking zebras and

The Paradise Wildlife Park of old is now transformed with plenty of happy animal magic on show camels, talking to the parrots, trying to spot the sleeping cheetahs and being mere inches away from a snow leopard that had climbed up next to the viewing platform, there is so much to do.

But while the big cats will always be impressive – and the white lions certainly were awesome to watch – Paradise Wildlife Park offers a family day out that is never less than brilliant.

For the blazing hot day we were there, the Paradise Lagoon paddling pool was the perfect place for the kids to cool down and have a picnic, before we tried out the adventure playgrounds (including a full-sized Thomas The Tank Engine which made my two-year-old son stop dead in his tracks as he took in the wonder of the vision before him).

To spend our afternoon, we had arranged to go on a Magic Tour – one of the many varied Animal Experiences which the park offers.

Being taken around the attractions by an experienced zoo-keeper gave a whole new insight into what we had already seen that morning. Her knowledge opened our eyes to what the park's development over the years means for its animals and its behind-the-scenes conservation work revealed remarkable dedication from its staff. Our zoo keeper, for instance, is raising a baby wallaby which has become separated from its mother. This had meant taking it home at the end of each day and feeding it every hour and a half through the night!

During our Magic Tour my daughter and I also got up close and personal with lizards, snakes, camels, tapirs and, for the finale, headed over to the penguins for feeding time. We held out fish to grasping necks, which gobbled them up with surprising speed – so surprising that it was too scary for my four-year-old and she legged it back to the keeper's hut.

Other tours are available during which you can get to feed the tigers, shadow various zoo keepers or handle birds of prey. We didn't even get to see the daily shows with the animals or head into the soft-play Tumble Jungle, despite its respite opportunity of a Starbucks café.

My son, who normally has a lunchtime kip, kept going until we got ready to leave at about 5pm – and was asleep before we had left the car park, when he must have finally realised that is was safe to close his eyes as there was nothing more that he might miss.

So if you have less than fond memories of Paradise Wildlife Park, perhaps from school trips, now is the time to revisit it. The changes will simply blow you away, and the quality of its many attractions far outweigh a day trudging around Legoland. I really can't recommend it too highly.

Paradise Wildlife Park, White Stubbs Lane, Broxbourne. Adults £14, children £11, family ticket (two adults, two children) £48. For more, and details on the Animal Experiences, call 01992 470490 or visit www.pwpark.com

Scaring petrol station staff with axe earns three years

AN AXE-WIELDING teenager who terrified staff while attempting to rob a service station has been jailed for three years.

Motahar Sharif, 18, of Perry Court, Haringey, was sentenced at Wood Green Crown Court on Friday after pleading guilty to attempted robbery and possessing points and blades.

Sharif was caught after officers conducting routine patrols along Green Lanes noticed him sitting on a bicycle paying close attention to the Esso service station in Winchmore Hill.

After abandoning his bike at the entrance of the station kiosk, officers saw Sharif go inside and climb on the counter.

Wielding an axe in his right hand he demanded staff hand over money from the cash register, but they fled to a back room and locked themselves in.

Sharif stayed at the counter attempting to open the cash register, but after failing he ran away and was confronted by the police officers.

Following a short chase he was arrested and the officers recovered the weapon he used.

Investigating officer Detective Sergeant Bob Power, of Edmonton robbery squad, said: "Sharif believed he could simply walk into the location undetected and frighten staff into handing over money that did not belong to him. He did not stop to think that while he was committing this offence officers might be watching him and it is this that led to his arrest and subsequent sentence."

"This case should act as a warning to anyone who feels that they can commit a crime in this borough with no fear of being caught. You will be caught, you will be arrested and you will be prosecuted." Sharif received two years for attempted robbery and 12 months for possession of an offensive weapon.

Mark your card for Palace show

WITH the credit crunch dictating another thrifty Christmas it's time to... make your own presents!

Over the past few years card making in this country has outgrown its cult status to rival the US - which was responsible for getting us into the hobby in the first place.

Boasting an infinite variety of designs, the creative crafter can transform the common card into a beautiful object and, with the festive season around the corner, offers a rather novel, personalised present.

This weekend enthusiasts of card making, scrapbooking and rubber stamping will be in their element as The Big Stamp & Scrapbooking Show rolls into town.

The biggest event of its kind takes over Alexandra Palace for a plethora of events, demonstrations, workshops and stalls to satisfy the veteran and intrigue the novice.

"There's nothing bigger aimed purely at paper craft," said Colin Poole, managing director of organiser Express Services. "Over the years it's grown into a busy and bustling show which everyone should enjoy. This year we'll have a special stand on artists' trading cards which have become very popular in the industry and which people can swap with each other."

The show takes place at the Wood Green venue from 10am to 5pm this Saturday and 10am to 4pm on Sunday. And, in these credit crunch times,

Alexandra Palace is to host The Big Stamp & Scrapbooking show visitors will be pleased to know that ticket prices have stagnated at £5 in advance / £6 on the door (adults), £4 / £5 (senior citizens), £2 / £3 (children).

● For more details and reservations call the palace box office on 020 8365 2121.

Out and about

● ACHTUNG baby - Henning Wehn is in town. One of Germany's funniest comedians headlines this Sunday's Comedy Variety Cabaret, Downstairs at the King's Head in Crouch End. He will be supported by Lenny Peters, Paul Ricketts, Gary Little and Kevin Precious. Admission is £7 (£5 concessions) and the show starts at 8pm. Call the box office on 020 8340 1028.

● MORE entertainment on Sunday - this time for the younger ones. Giraffes Can't Dance is the contentious title for Blunderbus' latest show at Jackson's Lane in Archway Road, Highgate. Suitable for ages four to seven it's based on the bestselling children's book, features a bandy-legged giraffe called Gerald, and takes place at 2pm. Tickets cost £6.95. Call the box office on 020 8341 4421.

● AND if you can't make the Sunday show then Lauderdale House has fun for kids on Saturday. Pandora's Trunk is the name of the entertainment from Jactito Theatre, suitable for ages three to eight. It stars Billy Better, the forest's bin man, who collects rubbish thoughts, recycles them in Pandora's tree trunk and turns them into happiness and hope! Call the box office on 020 8348 8716.

St Albans High School for Girls has much to be proud of as it embarks upon its one hundred and twenty first year. Always renowned for its academic excellence, the School has seen consistently record breaking results over recent years with its Primary School in Wheathampstead named Sunday Times Independent Preparatory School of the Year and A level results at grades A or B being 90% in 2009.

The new Headmistress, Mrs Rosemary Martin, is, however, quick to point out that the High School is about so much more than the sum of its examination results. "It is about friendship and support; it is about developing a sense of responsibility to ourselves and to others; it is about ensuring that these bright young minds fulfil the promise of the future".

The Daily Telegraph described the school as one for "bright, energetic girls who enjoy taking on new challenges, both academic and non-academic" and a visit to the School's website www.stahs.org.uk shows the whole breadth of challenge that girls of all ages are ready to embrace. Notable examples are Year 9 reporters in the BBC School Report initiative being held up as an example of good practice; Year 5 gymnasts, among them the national Under 10 champion, sweeping the board at an international gymnastics final; Sixth Form students' work at the Saatchi gallery and a whole wealth of musical, dramatic, as well as academic, success.

Whilst academic excellence remains and will remain a key feature of this busy, vibrant school, it is also one which, to quote its last Inspection Report, ensures that "the young women who are educated here are well prepared for the next stage in their lives, which they enter with confidence and abiding values."

Highly strung soloist

The Soloist (12A)

Dir: Joe Wright
Starring: Jamie Foxx, Robert Downey Jr, Catherine Keener

I KEEP passing The Soloist poster on the Underground and it bugs the hell outta me.

There's Jamie Foxx, obviously on his uppers, but playing a cello, while Robert Downey Jr, on his haunches, watches him intently with something approaching awe - the awesomeness of the moment accentuated by a white shining light signifying "genius" or "wonder" or "Wow - poor black people can make music just like us white middle-class folk".

The tag "based on a true story" seems to nail this as a sentimental, Hollywood adaptation of a tougher, true life event - happy ending obligatory no matter what happened to the cellist.

Well, I was partly right. The subject matter is encapsulated in the poster image, and it never feels as though anything really bad is going to happen to the protagonists as in bad old life, but British director Joe Wright does what he did so well in his adaptations of Atonement and Pride and Prejudice, and injects a little more innovation and realism into the source material than might have been gleaned from that stomach-churning image.

Talented: Homeless Nathaniel (Jamie Foxx) seeks solace in his cello

In 2005 Los Angeles Times journalist Steve Lopez heard down-and-out Nathaniel Ayers playing his two string violin. Realising Ayers' potential as a musician - and a column - Lopez began recording his meetings with Ayers in the LA Times, befriending the troubled but talented individual, and turning the columns into a book on which this film is based.

Never looking away from the miseries of homelessness and mental illness, Wright tackles both of Ayers' afflictions with admirable aplomb and he's constantly seeking new ways to look at what is essentially a pretty standard buddy movie.

Distorting sound is one favoured method while his attempt to capture the impact of a Beethoven symphony on Ayers through colourful visuals is inspired.

Both Foxx and Downey Jr are as watchable as ever as the former continues his quest to play as many brilliant, afflicted black musicians as possible.

by Jonathan Lovett

Now Showing...

Away We Go (15)

Sam Mendes' latest offering is a sharp departure from his usual fare of the American dream gone awry. Instead, he brings us a tender and funny story of a couple embarking on a journey across North America in a search for a place to bring up their soon-to-be-born baby.

Fish Tank (15)

Explosive debut from teenager Katie Jarvis as the rebellious 15-year-old Mia seeking release or just some kind of empathy on an Essex council estate in a search for a place to bring up their soon-to-be-born baby.

500 Days Of Summer (12A)

He listens to The Smiths and sings the Pixies. She has a '60s haircut and is the dictionary definition of "kooky". Charming but slight rom-com that blasts its indie credentials through one of the best soundtracks of the year.

Funny People (15)

Leave after half an hour and you'd think Judd Apatow has directed an intriguing view through the highs and lows of stand-up comedians. Stay for the painful 145 minutes and you realise he's copped out with sentimental, unfunny fluff.

Lunch treat down at The Woodman

The Gannets

The Woodman
414 Archway Road, Highgate
020 8340 3016

WHY is The Woodman so quiet at lunchtimes? The Archway Road institution – nestling on the junction with Muswell Hill Road – overflows with punters in the summer months, does a healthy trade in the evening (check out the jazz on Tuesdays), but is sorely neglected at lunchtimes.

With the elegant 1930s-style decor, the attentive staff and superior lunch menu, featuring some reasonably priced, quality dishes, it deserves better than the odd deserter from nearby Jackson's Lane arts centre.

Grimming Gannet chose the minestrone soup (£4.25) while I

Ingrained quality:
Sadly neglected by the lunchtime crowd

opted for the tomato, courgette and olive tart with grilled goat's cheese (£4.75).

The soup was a lovely rustic concoction of big pieces of vegetables and pasta, while my tart had the lightest of pastries and was perfect for the last day of summer.

The main event, however, was my wild boar and apple sausages with champ potato, onion gravy and fried sage (£8.50).

Forget Grinning's char-grilled chicken breast on Caesar salad (£10) and revel instead in my hearty dish with sausages that practically popped with flavour and were still running riot on my taste buds a good three hours later.

Restaurant News

PEOPLE with autism and learning difficulties will be benefiting from a charity night at Aladdin's next Monday.

The Indian restaurant in Winchmore Hill has organised a bit of a do for St Mark's Social Education Service based in Bush Hill Park.

Diners will be able to order from the a la carte menu as normal but money will go towards the worthy cause.

"I have been to Great Ormond Street and I was devastated by what I saw," said restaurant owner Jalal Khan. "So when we approached MP David Burrowes and he suggested this charity I was very pleased to offer my services."

The Enfield Southgate MP will attend the event along with Enfield mayor Eleftherios Savva.

Mr Burrowes said: I've been supporting St Mark's for a couple of years. They offer a secure environment and take people out on day trips and are a wonderful beacon in our area."

For details and to make a reservations contact Aladdin's in Hoppers Road on 020 8882 6444 / 8882 5666.

ASK THE EXPERT

With the new academic year upon us Uni-students not living at home are faced with the prospect of finding somewhere to live, but what are the options and what should they look out for.

We ask local letting/managing agents Barnard Cook (BCWL) for a few tips.

What are the choices?

Well some universities have accommodation but space is limited so students may need to rent privately. A popular choice is to share a property which helps to keep the costs down, or to rent a spare room in somebody's house.

What should they look out for?

If you rent somebody's spare room, the rent you pay may include bills (gas, electricity, etc.) but if you are renting a property, they are not – so always budget extra for these costs. Also, many landlords will want you to sign a 12 month lease, meaning you are responsible for the property even when you may not need it.

I have heard the phrase jointly and severally liable what does that mean?

A lease it is a legal document, making all who sign it responsible, in basic terms that means if the others don't pay their share of the rent you are responsible to pay it all.

Do agents charge fees?

Yes agents usually charge to cover the cost of taking up references, but some try to charge other costs which professional firms like us deem to be unfair so always check first. It is always best to go through an agent who is member of a professional body. Ask the university if they have a list of agents they recommend.

CONDITIONS OF ACCEPTANCE FOR ALL ADVERTISEMENTS

Orders are accepted by the Publishers subject to the Standard Conditions agreed between the Newspaper Society and the Institute of Practitioners in Advertising. Save that:

1. Advertisements are accepted on the conditions that (a) descriptions relating to goods are accurate and in no way contravene the provisions of the Trade Descriptions Act 1968, and the Fair Trading Act 1973, and (b) the copy complies with the British Code of Advertising Practice. Advertisements offering credit or hire facilities must conform to the Consumer Credit (Advertisements) Regulations 1980.
2. Classified Advertisers offering goods or service of a business, commercial or trade nature will, at the discretion of the Publishers, be deemed "Trade Advertisers", and as such, must include their names in advertisements. A telephone number is an optional addition to these requirements and not an alternative.
3. To comply with the Business Advertisements (Disclosure) Order 1977, Trade Advertisers must make it clear that they are selling goods in the course of business either by content, format, size or place of the advertisement or by including words such as "trade", "dealer", "agent", "wholesaler", "(T)" etc. in the advertisement.
4. The Publishers accept no liability whatsoever for any loss or damage however caused arising out of:
(a) Any error, inaccuracy or omission in the printing or publishing of any advertisement;
(b) Any failure to publish an advertisement on the day / date or / dates specified by the advertiser; or
(c) Any delay in forwarding or omission to forward replies to box numbers to the Advertiser.
5. The Publishers will endeavour to publish advertisements on the day / date or day / dates specified by the Advertiser but insertion days / dates cannot be guaranteed.
6. Where shrinkage of advertisement occurs for whatever reasons the advertisement will be charged to the nearest full centimetre. This will NOT apply to the full-page advertisements, which remain full pages even after shrinkage.
7. The Publishers reserve the right to reject an advertisement or to vary it in any way they deem fit, at any time before publication, whether or not the advertisement has already been accepted for publication.
8. Whilst every effort is made to minimise errors in advertisements, mistakes do sometimes occur. Advertisers or their agents should therefore check their advertisements and inform us of any errors immediately. Responsibility cannot be accepted for more than one incorrect insertion. Typographical or minor changes, which do not affect the value of the advertisement, do not qualify for republication or allowances.
9. All gross advertising rates (except classified line and semi-display) are subject to and include a 0.1% Advertising Standards Board of Finance surcharge, payable by the advertisers to help finance the self-regulatory control system administered by the Advertising Standards Authority.
10. All rates quoted are subject to VAT at the rate currently in force at the time the advertisement appears.
11. Should the rate for advertisements be altered the price for remaining insertions shall be revised accordingly or the publishers shall have the right to cancel the unexpired portion of the order.
12. The placing of an advertisement order will be deemed an acceptance of these conditions.
13. Account facilities are granted at the discretion of the Company.
14. All accounts must be settled within the terms agreed by the Company and the Customer.
15. (1) Should an advertiser be in breach of the agreed terms, the publisher shall be entitled to levy a 10% surcharge on the value of the whole debt in respect of accounts with terms of less than 30 days, and any discounts or commissions that had been allowed will be reclaimed.
(2) Regular monthly accounts that are in breach of the agreed terms will pay an interest rate of 6% above the current bank of England base rate for each month that the account is overdue and discounts or commissions that had been allowed will be reclaimed. Should Legal action be required the interest will be charged in accordance with the County Court Act 1984.
16. Where an advertiser instructs / appoints an advertising agent to act on their behalf, the advertiser will remain jointly and severally liable for payment in respect of an advertisement should the appointed agent fail to pay. For the avoidance of doubt, the agent acts for the advertiser and not for the publisher with the agent being responsible for notifying the advertiser of this liability.
17. All queries must be notified, preferably in writing to the accounts department of the publisher within 7 days of the invoice date.
18. All digital services are maintained in partnership with the publishers' hosting service providers. Every effort is made to ensure the continuity of these services, but some occasional technical downtime beyond the publishers control may occur. The publisher and its associated companies shall be under no liability if the production and distribution of web services is delayed or prevented by any cause beyond the control of the publisher.
19. The Publisher may provide voucher copies for published advertisements in electronic form only subject to certain criteria. Further information is available on request.
20. The copyright of advertisements produced wholly or partially by the Publishers belong to the Publishers. Advertisers may not reproduce such advertisements without the Publishers' consent.

Box Numbers

Boxes are open for the receipt of bona fide answers and are not available for distribution of trade canvassing material. Original testimonials, goods, cash, stamps or payments of any kind must not be enclosed. A box Number and postal address are charged as part of the advertisement, i.e. Box No., centre address. There is no charge for forwarding replies.

Holiday & Travel Category

All advertising must contain the name of the advertiser, phone number alone are not permitted.

Data Protection

The service you have requested may require us to carry out a credit search at a credit-referencing agency, which will record the fact that a search has been made. We may need to share your information with other lenders and credit reference agencies. However, we will only use the information from these searches to make credit-granting decisions and, if necessary, for fraud prevention or tracing debtors.

Data controller will use your information for administration and analysis. We may share your information with other Tindle Group Newspaper companies or carefully selected third parties. We, or they, may send you details of other goods and services, which may be of interest to you. The information may be provided by letter, telephone or other reasonable means of communication. Calls may be recorded or monitored for training purposes.

Special conditions apply with regard to the advertising of adult services, which are outlined to all persons submitting such advertisements.

BE A MULTI-SKILLED ENERGY ASSESSOR

Regardless of the recession, a new European Directive now legally requires an estimated 2.5 million homes and commercial properties being rented, sold or built to have an Energy Assessment this year alone. And more 'green environmental' laws are coming!

For example next year nearly every commercial property with air-conditioning must have an Assessment before the January 2011 deadline.

Applicants are therefore required to train now as multi-skilled 'Property Professionals' to carry out commercial and air-conditioning Energy Assessments and many other roles such as Flood and Fire Risk Assessments, Energy Audits, Insulation Surveys, Property Valuations, Home Condition Reports, Public Buildings Assessments etc.

No previous experience is necessary, training to join this new growth industry can usually be taken around current job at our nationwide training centres approved by the Government-appointed Awarding Body for the Built Environment and is subsidised. On qualifying start your own energy business, work for other Assessment Providers or be available for potential full or part-time work through our Energy Assessor Panel with earnings of £50 to £1,500 per Assessment.

Ring today for an interview and find out more about a career opportunity in this fast-expanding, new 'green' industry.

YOUR
SKILLS

At Barclays, we always put our customers first. And if you think the same way we do, there's a great future here for you. If you can make our customers feel valued, we'll make sure you do too.

We currently have opportunities available at some of our London branches, including Croydon, Kingston, Edgware, Enfield, Harrow and the City.

Customer Advisors – Full & Part-time £12,410 pro rata + benefits

As one of our Customer Advisors, you'll be the first point of contact for everyone who comes into the branch. Because each customer has different needs, you can expect plenty of variety. Our exceptional training means you don't need financial services experience to join us – just a proactive approach to customer service and a high level of numeracy. Bring us these and we'll help you make the most of a company that rewards service just as much as sales. With flexible shifts, there are hours to suit everyone too.

Personal Bankers | £18,615 + bonus + benefits

Our Personal Bankers get to know and provide advice to their own portfolio of customers, recommending products and services that meet, and exceed, their individual needs. As such, you'll need a clear customer focus, the ability to deliver sales through service and experience of working to targets. You don't need financial services experience to join us – we provide great training, so you could have developed your relationship management experience in a field such as hospitality, retail or travel.

REDKNAPP FACES AN INJURY CRISIS

Out of action: King and Bassong (inset) are the latest defenders to be struck down at White Hart Lane

King and Bassong both sidelined to add to Tottenham's defensive woes

By Lee Husson

HARRY REDKNAPP is facing a crisis in his defence after both Ledley King and Sebastien Bassong were forced off with injury in Tottenham Hotspur's 3-0 defeat at Chelsea on Sunday.

King lasted barely a half before he pulled a hamstring, while Bassong was stretched off with suspected concussion not long after – although doctors later cleared him to return to Spurs Lodge to receive further treatment.

And, with Michael Dawson and Jonathan Woodgate still on the sidelines, Spurs boss Redknapp is alarmingly short of centre backs ahead of Saturday's Premier League clash against Burnley at White Hart Lane.

"Ledley is so important for us, but if you don't train you can't just go out and play without doing hamstrings, groins or calves," the manager said.

"Bassong doesn't look too good, either. He got a bang on the head. His eye's all swollen up. It doesn't look too clever at all.

"Woodgate's nowhere near playing again. He went to see a specialist again yesterday, we haven't got to the bottom of the injury at all. He had an operation last season and he's come back no better.

"Dawson has a chance, he's the one." Chelsea heaped more misery on Spurs as they ran out comfortable winners at Stamford Bridge, where the Blues are unbeaten against their London rivals in 19 years.

Redknapp rightly pointed out that his side should have had a penalty after Ashley Cole had put Chelsea ahead when Robbie Keane was clearly tripped by Ricardo Carvalho, but referee Howard Webb waved away the appeals.

Michael Ballack scored three minutes later, and Didier Drogba sealed a comprehensive win – handing Spurs their second defeat in a row after winning their first four.

"The penalty decision, Ledley going off – they were the turning points," Redknapp added. "We defended abysmally for the second goal but we couldn't handle Drogba.

"As soon as Ledley went I knew we couldn't handle him."

Young athletes claim creditable sixth in European Clubs Cup

THE stars of the future at Enfield and Haringey Athletic Club had to settle for a sixth-placed finish in Saturday's European Junior Champion Clubs Cup in Moscow.

The under-20 men's team at the club won the right to represent Great Britain at the prestigious event – for a ninth consecutive year – by winning the male section of the national junior league in 2008.

But they found the going tough as they took on seven other leading clubs from across the continent.

Jordan Huggins secured Enfield and Haringey's only individual victory by taking the 200metres in 22.22seconds, while he also claimed top spot in a non-scoring 100m in 10.90secs.

A busy day for Huggins then saw him anchor the 4x100m relay team, which also included Sean Safo-Antwi, Rhion Samuel and Reece Noonan, to a creditable fourth place (43.24secs).

Ben Nagy (pictured) came home second in the 3,000m steeplechase (9minutes 23.53secs), while the best performance in the field saw Jay Hill finish third in the hammer (60.29m).

Jordan Henwood cleared 4.20m to come fourth in the pole vault, a result matched by Chris Baker in the high jump (2.03m). Host club ASC Moscow proved to be comfortable winners of the event, with Spanish outfit Playas de Castellon finishing as runners-up.

Enfield and Haringey return to action when the cross country season begins next month.
